Problem

No one to go to the gig with

Solution

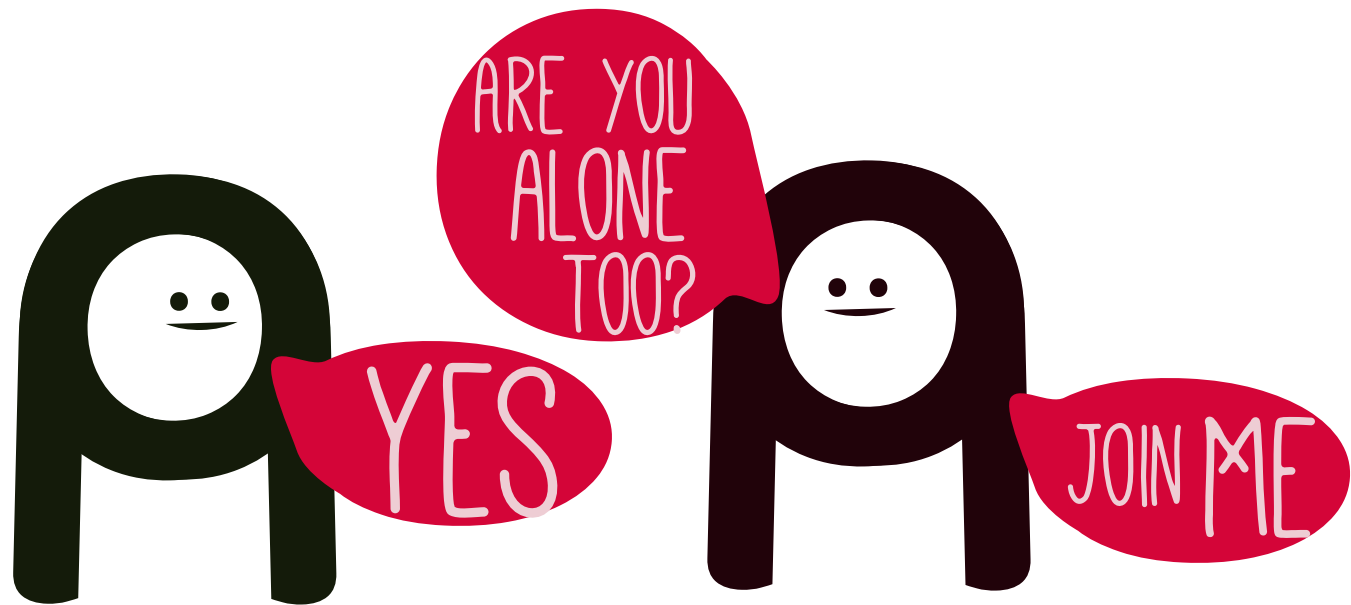

A large crowd of people at a concert, with many hands raised in the air. In the center, two hands are positioned to form a heart shape. The scene is bathed in warm, reddish-orange light, likely from stage lighting. The word "bandboud" is overlaid in white lowercase letters, with the two 'o's replaced by small smiley face emojis.

Personas

Ana Jahnke

“The Visitor”

About Ana

She is 26 Years old and originates from Hamburg, Germany and has recently arrived to Glasgow.

She will be teaching at a local primary school.

Ana doesn't currently know anyone in the city and most of her work colleagues are older and married with children.

Being her first job since graduating Ana finds herself with a large amount of disposable income and free time at evenings to socialise.

Has an very active online presence(Facebook, Twitter, google+, Tinder)

She is a huge fan of Reggae and Ska music and Drum and Bass at attends lots of events back in Hamburg

Key Goal

Looking to meet new people that are interested in the same music and looking to find out whats going in in teh local area also.

Personas

Lewis

“The Experi-metal-ist”

About Lewis

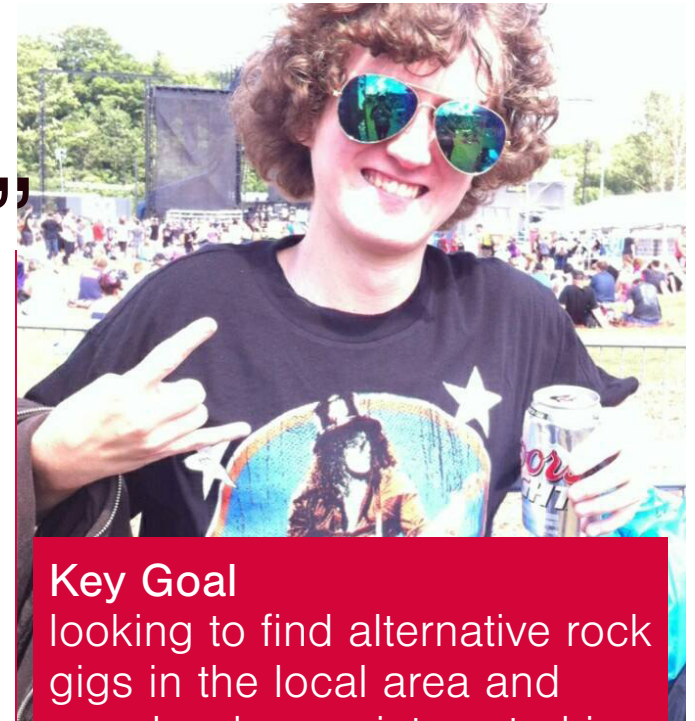

24 from Lairg in the Highlands just arrived to the city to undertake postgraduate study in computer science at University of Glasgow

Has a big close circle of friends at home and looking to build up a network of friends with similar music tastes in Glasgow to go and bands with.

Has a can do attitude and always keen to try something new however has a great distain for popular music.

Being a postgraduate student with no job he has a very limited budget and lives off his Bursary/Student Loan and Parent's genouristy

Over the past several years has developed an online reputation for gig reviews and his musical knowledge and has a big myspace and bebo following but doesn't like the main stream facebook and twitter.

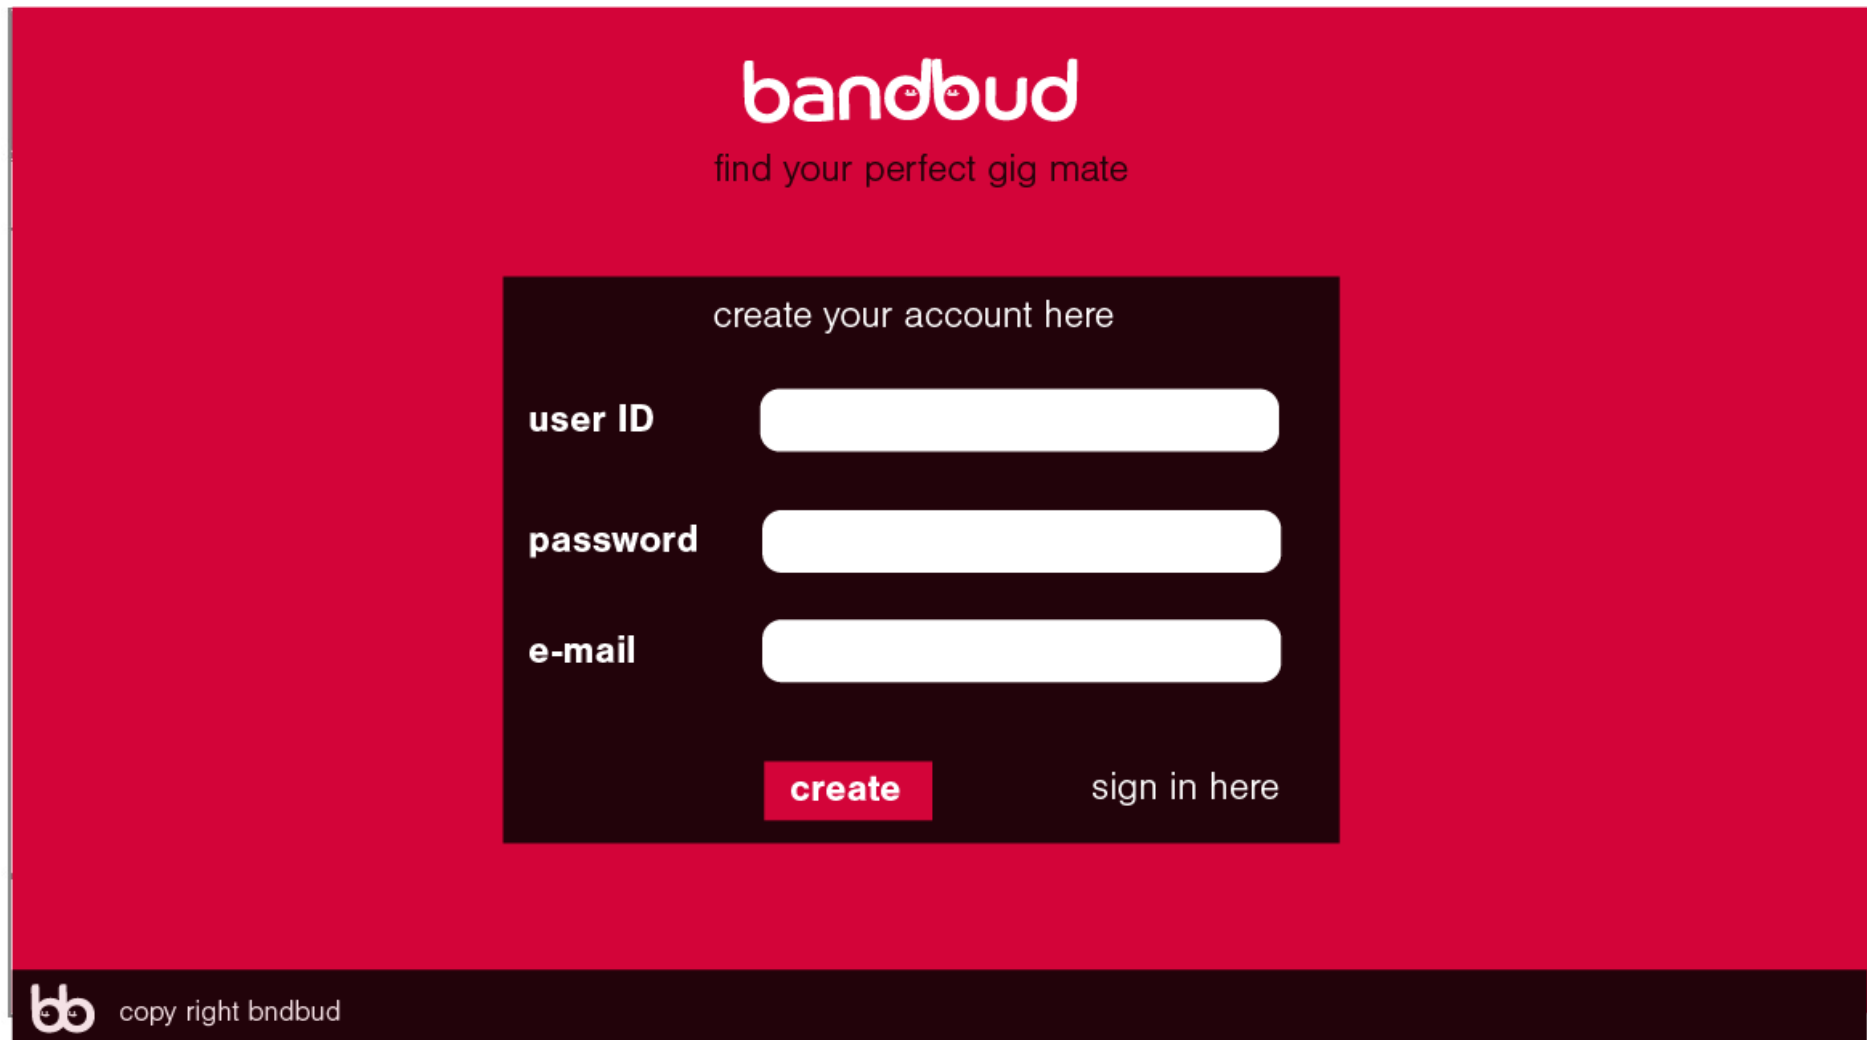

Key Goal

looking to find alternative rock gigs in the local area and people who are interested in going to see the same artists and music.

If the person happens to be a Courtney Love or Goldie Hawn lookalike then all the better.
